

March 21, 2012

Dear Attendees,

It is my pleasure to welcome you to Atlanta for the 100th anniversary of the Thomas P. Hinman Dental Meeting. On behalf of Atlanta Convention and Visitors Bureau and the entire hospitality community, we hope that you have a productive and pleasant stay.

For the past 100 years, our city has grown up alongside the Hinman Dental Meeting. From the first gatherings of 40 dentists in the former Piedmont Hotel to 23,000 attendees congregating in the Georgia World Congress Center, we are proud that your organization calls Atlanta home.

Whether this is your first visit or if you are a returning guest, Atlanta continues to grow and offer new experiences. Atlanta's convention corridor and tourist district is within walking distance of top-rated hotels, world-class restaurants, fun attractions and festive nightlife. In the coming years, Atlanta will offer even more cultural attractions downtown with the opening of the National Center for Civil and Human Rights and the College Football Hall of Fame.

As one of our longest running meetings for the city, Atlanta is proud to celebrate Hinman's 100th anniversary. Once again, we extend a warm welcome to you and wish you another successful century to come.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "William Pate", is written over a light blue horizontal line.

William Pate
President and CEO