-Bureau launches new web site featuring information and accommodations -

ATLANTA (Sept. 04, 2008) – Atlanta Convention & Visitors Bureau has launched a new web site offering information and aid for those affected by tropical storms, hurricanes and other natural disasters. The online tool, www.atlanta.net/hurricanerelief, is maintained on an as needed basis and updated during extreme weather conditions.

The web site also includes a list of member hotels offering accommodations and special rates. While Atlanta is a popular city for conventions and leisure travel, the city features more than 91,000 hotel rooms available to accommodate guests during special needs. For more information, please visit the site or 404-521-6618.

Established in 1913, ACVB is a private, nonprofit organization created to favorably impact the Atlanta economy through conventions and tourism. In 2007, Atlanta welcomed more than 37 million visitors, generating $11.4 billion in direct spending and supporting jobs for more than 227,000 metro Atlantans. For more information, visit www.atlanta.net.
